ART.BOX

art.box is the new direction for contemporary art, a box for cars turning into a box for art, a tiny gallery overlooking via Tortona, a big enlightened window, a small place connecting artists and passers-by, in zona Tortona in Milan. Each month it changes identity presenting an art installation or a mini-exhibition by a different artist and curator on site. Art-box is also a virtual space presenting, just on line, small "boxes" dedicated to interesting and innovative selected artists in order to put in contact art and users without any geographical or temporal bounds.
